I am far from perfect, . I struggle every day to accomplish things, to move myself and Agile' forward. But I get more done now than I ever did before.

A few years ago, I discovered a book by Brian P. Moran. He lays out a system he calls the 12 Week Year. With it, thousands of people around the world are getting more done in 12 weeks - or 90 days - than most other folks do in an entire calendar year.

Like I said, I'm far from the most ardent student of the 12 Week Year. But when I follow the system - dang! I get a lot of $!/^ done. I've been recommending the system to clients and followers alike for a few years now. A few have gotten back to me with some pretty astonishing accomplishments. Most, frankly, have not. And that's on them.

I'm always striving to get better

It's tough. As a kid and young adult, I was never taught about goals, or time management, or anything that would help me succeed.

And I believe it's the same for most folks. We float through life, dreaming of "someday," but hardly ever accomplishing anything big.

I STRONGLY suggest you visit this link, and at least read about what's in it.

Heck, I suggest you Google the phrase "12 week year review" to see what folks have to say. It's amazing what you can get done in a short time if you have a system, and you use that process!

In my next email, I'm going to go over 3 different 90-day planners that I've used for implementing my 12 Week Years. Stay tuned!
